Internet hosting Package deal:

Lunarpages pricing is one of the best we've found. Ecommerce hosting requires a SSL secure certificate, password-protected directories, some form of fee processing, and procuring cart software. Lunarpages charges additional for a SSL certificate, and works with Paymerica for credit card processing, additionally at added cost. Password safety is free, as is your selection of three buying cart techniques in Cube Cart, OS Commerce Cart, and Zen Cart. Lunarpages offers normal programming help with CGI, Perl, PHP, Python, and Server Aspect Consists of (SSI). You should buy JSP and ASP assist if you happen to need it.

Lunarpages helps FrontPage extensions, MySQL databases, Flash and Shockwave. You may stream audio with Real Audio/Video. Additional codecs value further due to the want for a static IP address. This website hosting service gives you 5 POP3 and SMTP e mail accounts, along with webmail, electronic mail forwarding, catch-all emails and auto responders. This web hosting service also helps mailing lists and spam protection.

Ease of Use:

Throughout the time we tested out Lunarpages, we did not run into many things that we had a hard time figuring out. Nonetheless, after we did have points with a few of their features, their assist part and customer support have been less than helpful in resolving them. These minor infractions had been rare. As a whole, what Lunarpages has to offer is unquestionably user friendly.

Assistance & Support:

Lunarpages assist is among the many finest round, offering toll-free, 24/7 telephone assist with a clearly posted help number on their site. Email assist is also 24/7, and you'll access video tutorials, post your problems/solutions of their forums, or browse their FAQ section and knowledgebase.

Web Site Creation Instruments:

You'll be able to flip your website right into a blog or add a guestbook or image gallery with Lunarpages. Outdoors of these options, this website hosting service has no site creation tools to speak of.

Server Access:

With the Starter Plan, you get access to just one FTP account with this hosting service. Nevertheless, in case you improve to the Primary Internet hosting Plan, that quantity goes up to unlimited. Lunarpages additionally gives gives SSH entry, however not .htaccess or anonymous FTP.

Advertising and Marketing Tools:

Lunarpages offers vouchers for Fb Ads and Google AdWords.

Reporting and Statistics:

Lunarpages includes one thing referred to as "Online Person Statistics" with each plan, but they do not explain precisely what that entails.

Conclusion:

Lunarpages does every part and does it nicely - all for a really affordable price. With a 30-day money-again guarantee, there's loads of time to get your website up and working, and discover out whether or not Lunarpages is a good match on your needs. It is exhausting to find a higher internet hosting service that meets your needs in addition to they do and expenses very little each month. The value difference between the Starter Plan and the extra elaborate plans is low, so you can move to a plan with extra features once you outgrow the first one. So far as Lunarpages' bad reputation goes, it's undeserved.

We have three websites hosted on LunarPages and we are not experiencing and major problems with any of them. Initially we had a problem with DNS resolution but this was quickly dealth with by the support group inside 4 hours of us sending them a assist request e-mail. LunarPages has been round for 10 years and in this time has proved themselves to be a hosting company who delight themselves on buyer satisfaction. Although LunarPages pricing is on par with most leading website hosting firm's their customer assist far outdoes some other internet host. For most people the LunarPages normal plan would fulfill their needs and we consider that this plan gives excellent worth for money. Nonetheless if you are planning to setup a particularly resource intensive website then we might advocate the Premium Plan. In conclusion we highly advocate LunarPages Internet Hosting.
